

FLORIDA WORKERS' COMPENSATION EXEMPTIONS AT-A-GLANCE

FUBA Workers' Comp created this document as a general summary of Florida law regarding workers' compensation exemptions, and is not intended to provide legal advice or insurance coverage advice. For specific questions, please contact a licensed insurance agent, an attorney, or the Division of Workers' Compensation.

Non-Construction Companies:

(required to have workers' comp coverage if they have 4 or more employees)

A. Sole Proprietorship or Partnership Payroll for individuals $47,700

1. Sole proprietors and partners are automatically excluded by law; they do not have to file for an exemption.
2. Cannot be included on a workers' compensation policy unless they file form DWC 251 Election of Coverage with the state Division of Workers' Compensation ("DWC").
3. Can go back to being excluded by filing form DWC 251-R with the DWC.

B. Corporation Payroll for officers are $23,400 minimum for construction, $46,800 minimum for non-construction

1. Officers can file for an exemption with the DWC. There is no limit to the number of corporate officers who can exempt out of workers' compensation coverage.
2. Corporation must be in good standing and applicant must be listed as an officer of the corporation on the Division of Corporations' database (www.sunbiz.org).
3. Non-construction exemptions issued prior to 1/1/13 are free and last until revoked; they do not expire. Non-construction exemptions issued on or after 1/1/13 are also free but must be renewed every 2 years to remain valid.
4. Exemption can be revoked by filing form DWC 250-R with the DWC.
5. Corporate officers without an exemption are considered employees for coverage purposes (and count towards the 4-employee threshold) and are included on their company's workers' compensation policy.

C. Limited Liability Company (LLC) Payroll for LLC are the same as above Corp.

1. Effective July 1, 2013, LLC owners (also called "members" or "managing members") of non-construction LLC's can file for an exemption with the DWC.
2. Applicant must own at least 10% of the LLC to be eligible for an exemption.
3. The exemption is free and must be renewed every 2 years to remain valid.
4. Exemption can be revoked by filing form DWC 250-R with the DWC.
5. LLC owners without an exemption are considered employees for coverage purposes (and count towards the 4-employee threshold) and will be included on the company's workers' compensation policy.
